Ethimo @ Salone del Mobile.Milano 2024

A central patio opens up and the vegetation embraces an outdoor living experience that moves from outside-inside and vice versa. The rooms around the perimeter develop movable walls in an architectural continuum which finds fluidity and connections with nature, in a material alternation.

"The Patio collection stems from our passion for the variety of weaves and patterns discovered on our travels. We designed a series of motifs as 3D surfaces that could become the decoration and structure of a series of outdoor seating elements. The latter become true frames in wood and teak into which skilled craftsmen weave close patterns based on our suggestions, tests and inspirations."

" For Lustra and Folia, we drew inspiration from traditional craftsmanship, particularly from the wrought-iron technique, historically used for crafting gates and window protections, intrigued us with its ornate yet outdated style. Our goal was to modernize this approach, exploring different applications and patterns by experimenting with metal hammering techniques."

“A game of fitting and connecting, a dialogue: the vases in the “Innesti” collection have been designed to be used in pairs or groups. Their design sees a complementary silhouette meaning they can be stood side by side or ‘fitted’ together to create constantly new combinations.”
